

POOOL Affiliate Code of Conduct

Phase 1 – Controlled Referral Program

Effective Date: [DATE]

Applies To: All applicants, approved affiliates, pilot affiliates, reactivated affiliates, and any other persons granted access to the POOOL Affiliate Program.

1. Purpose

This Affiliate Code of Conduct (“Code”) defines the conduct and communication standards that apply to participation in the POOOL Affiliate Program (the “Program”).

Its purpose is to ensure that Affiliates:

- understand the limits of their role,
- communicate in a compliant and trustworthy way,
- use only approved methods and materials,
- protect users and POOOL from avoidable harm,
- and remain within the Phase 1 referral-only model at all times.

This Code is an operational conduct document. It applies together with the POOOL Affiliate Terms & Conditions, the Approved Marketing Materials Policy, the Qualified Referral & Payout Policy, the Affiliate Privacy Notice, onboarding requirements, training requirements, and related Program Documents.

Where another Program Document is unclear, this Code must be interpreted consistently with the master Phase 1 rule:

Affiliates may introduce and refer, but they may not advise, recommend, sell, negotiate, close, or handle payments.

2. Scope and Application

2.1 This Code applies from the time a person:

- applies to join the Program,
- participates in onboarding,
- receives pre-approval access,

- is approved as an Affiliate,
- is reactivated,
- or otherwise receives access to Program materials, tools, or workflows.

2.2 This Code applies to conduct in:

- public posts,
- stories,
- reels,
- videos,
- blogs,
- comments,
- direct or private messages,
- calls,
- voice notes,
- profile bios,
- landing pages,
- referral routing,
- and any other channel used in connection with Program activity.

2.3 This Code applies by substance, not by label. A person cannot avoid this Code by describing conduct as “education,” “help,” “community support,” “personal opinion,” or similar wording if the conduct is in substance affiliate-regulated communication.

3. Core Conduct Rule

3.1 As a POOOL Affiliate, your role is limited to:

- introducing POOOL in general terms,
- sharing approved materials,
- sharing your personal approved referral link or code,
- and directing users to official POOOL pages, disclosures, documents, fees, and risk information.

3.2 You must not:

- provide personal investment advice,
- recommend specific assets, listings, or offerings,
- promise or imply returns, certainty, safety, suitability, or performance,
- privately cold-solicit users,
- negotiate,
- close,

- handle payments,
- route funds,
- or otherwise act as an adviser, broker, seller, closer, or transaction intermediary.

3.3 If your conduct goes beyond introduction and referral, it is outside the Phase 1 model.

4. Behavioral Standards

Every Affiliate must act in a way that is:

- truthful,
- accurate,
- respectful,
- non-misleading,
- non-coercive,
- transparent,
- consistent with approved materials and official disclosures,
- and consistent with the reputation and operating standards of POOOL.

Affiliates must never prioritize conversion, commission, speed, or private persuasion over compliance, clarity, and user protection.

5. What Good Affiliate Conduct Looks Like

Good affiliate conduct includes:

- explaining POOOL in general, factual terms,
- sharing only approved content where approval is required,
- directing users to official POOOL information,
- clearly separating your role from advisory or sales roles,
- using your referral path transparently,
- redirecting users when they ask for advice, recommendation, suitability, or expected returns,
- using respectful and non-pushy communication,
- and cooperating promptly with onboarding, training, review, and remediation processes.

6. Communication Standards

6.1 General rule

All affiliate communication must stay within the general information + compliant referral activity zone.

Your communication must not:

- sound like investment advice,
- sound like a personal recommendation,
- create urgency to invest,
- create false comfort or false certainty,
- or create the impression that you are qualified or authorized to guide the user's personal investment decision.

6.2 Official-information rule

When speaking about POOOL, you must direct users to official POOOL materials for:

- product information,
- asset or offering information,
- fee information,
- risk information,
- disclosures,
- and other decision-relevant content.

Official POOOL materials are the controlling source of information. Your role is not to replace them, summarize them in a misleading way, or compete with them.

6.3 Redirect rule

If a user asks:

- what they should invest in,
- which asset is best,
- whether something is safe,
- whether something suits their goals,
- how much they should invest,
- what return they should expect,
- whether one asset is better than another,
- or any other question requiring advice, recommendation, suitability guidance, or decision support,

you must not answer in a personal or directional way.

You must redirect the user to:

- official POOOL materials,
- official fee and risk pages,
- official disclosures,
- and/or official POOOL-controlled support channels.

6.4 No replacement rule

You must not present your own explanation, reassurance, summary, or interpretation as a substitute for official POOOL disclosures, decision materials, or support processes.

7. Private Conversations vs. Affiliate Communication

7.1 Normal, non-systematic private conversations about personal experience are not automatically treated as regulated affiliate communication.

7.2 However, a communication becomes affiliate-regulated communication when you:

- share your referral link or code,
- direct a person to your profile, bio, story, page, or other referral path,
- use a call to action,
- engage in commission-related redirection,
- use the interaction as part of systematic promotional behavior,
- or begin advisory, recommendation, persuasion, or sales conduct.

7.3 The mere existence of a referral link on your profile does not automatically reclassify every unrelated conversation. However, where the conversation and the referral path are functionally connected as part of one referral journey, the communication may be treated as affiliate-regulated communication.

7.4 POOOL will interpret this boundary by substance rather than form.

8. Use of Approved Materials

8.1 You may use only materials, examples, texts, visuals, assets, and scripts approved by POOOL where approval is required.

8.2 You must not:

- invent your own claims,
- create custom pitch decks,

- alter official materials in a misleading or incomplete way,
- remove required disclosures,
- create unofficial FAQs,
- create return sheets or “performance” summaries,
- or present unofficial documents as if they were approved.

8.3 If a material is withdrawn, replaced, retired, or updated, you must stop using the old version promptly.

8.4 You must comply promptly with any POOOL instruction to:

- correct content,
- remove content,
- stop using a material,
- stop using a channel,
- or cease a communication practice.

9. Professional Conduct Standards

9.1 As a POOOL Affiliate, you must:

- behave professionally in public and private communication,
- avoid pressure, harassment, or emotional manipulation,
- avoid exaggerated or sensational marketing,
- respond honestly when you do not know something,
- not speak beyond your role,
- keep a clear boundary between sharing and advising,
- and preserve trust in the POOOL brand.

9.2 You must not use “soft” tactics to get around the rules, such as:

- pretending to be “just helpful” while steering a decision,
- pretending to be “just sharing” while giving a recommendation,
- pretending to be “just educating” while privately pushing conversion,
- or staging persuasion first and the referral CTA later.

10. Prohibited Communication Styles and Examples

10.1 Guarantees and certainty claims

You must not say or imply:

- “This is guaranteed.”
- “You will definitely make money.”
- “This is safe.”
- “This cannot go wrong.”
- “This is basically certain.”
- “You will get your money back.”
- “This is low risk for you.”
- “This one will perform.”
- “This is the best opportunity.”

10.2 Personal investment advice

You must not say or imply:

- “You should invest.”
- “This is right for you.”
- “You should start with this one.”
- “This fits your goals.”
- “I think your best move is this asset.”
- “If I were you, I would buy this.”

10.3 Specific asset recommendations

You must not say or imply:

- “Buy this villa.”
- “Choose this asset.”
- “This project is better than the other one.”
- “Start with this property first.”
- “This is the safest listing.”
- “I recommend this offering.”

10.4 Sales pressure and closing language

You must not say or imply:

- “You should act now.”
- “Don’t miss this.”
- “I can get you in.”
- “Let’s close this today.”
- “If you wait, you will lose the chance.”
- “Send me your details and I’ll help you get it done.”

10.5 Private cold outreach

You must not:

- cold-DM users,
- send unsolicited WhatsApp messages,
- send unsolicited Telegram messages,
- cold-call potential users,
- or use one-to-one unsolicited outreach to push POOOL or your referral path.

10.6 Side deals and unofficial promises

You must not say or imply:

- “I can get you special terms.”
- “I can arrange something extra for you.”
- “Use my link and I’ll give you a private bonus.”
- “I know someone who can push it through faster.”
- “I can get you a different deal off-platform.”

10.7 Payment handling

You must not say or imply:

- “Send me the money and I’ll arrange it.”
- “Transfer it to me first.”
- “I will handle the payment side.”
- “I can route the payment for you.”
- “I’ll take care of the transaction.”

10.8 Misrepresentation of role

You must not say or imply:

- “I’m your adviser.”
- “I’m your broker on this.”
- “I work as the closer.”
- “I can approve your investment.”
- “I represent POOOL in this decision.”
- “I can negotiate on POOOL’s behalf.”

11. Prohibited Conduct

In addition to the examples above, you must not, directly or indirectly:

- 11.1 provide personal investment advice;
- 11.2 recommend specific assets, listings, or offerings;
- 11.3 promise or imply returns, certainty, performance, safety, or suitability;
- 11.4 engage in persuasion, objection handling, urgency tactics, or closing;
- 11.5 use private cold outreach;
- 11.6 negotiate terms or offer side deals;
- 11.7 receive, collect, route, hold, or control user funds or payments;
- 11.8 use unapproved, outdated, misleading, or manipulated materials;
- 11.9 misrepresent your role, authority, or relationship with POOOL;
- 11.10 recruit Affiliates for commission or build downlines or team-based income structures;
- 11.11 engage in self-referral, related-party self-referral, referral-ring behavior, attribution manipulation, fake-account activity, or fraud;
- 11.12 share, lend, delegate, sell, sublicense, or route your affiliate identity, account access, referral link, or referral code through another person except where expressly approved in writing by POOOL;
- 11.13 avoid the rules by using indirect wording, voice notes, disappearing messages, assistants, proxies, alternate accounts, or staged communication tactics.

12. Social Media and Public Content Conduct

12.1 When posting publicly, you must:

- remain factual and general,
- avoid promises, certainty language, or “best asset” messaging,
- include required disclosures where applicable,
- use only approved materials and wording where required,
- and ensure your referral path is used transparently.

12.2 Public content must never function as disguised advice or disguised sales conduct.

12.3 Public content must not be structured to privately convert the user later through conduct that would not be allowed if said publicly.

13. Profile, Bio, Story, and Link Conduct

13.1 You may place your approved referral link in approved placements such as:

- profile bios,
- approved landing pages,
- approved story/link placements,
- and approved public content environments.

13.2 You must not use profile, story, or bio routing as a loophole to avoid classification of affiliate communication.

13.3 If you tell someone:

- “check my bio,”
- “the link is in my story,”
- “look at my profile for the code,”
- or similar referral-routing statements,

that is affiliate communication and this Code applies in full.

14. User Respect and Fair Treatment

14.1 You must treat users respectfully and fairly.

14.2 You must not:

- pressure vulnerable users,
- exploit confusion,
- use deceptive urgency,
- use harassment or repetitive pressure,
- shame a user for not investing,
- or create emotional manipulation around investment decisions.

14.3 You must not turn confusion, inexperience, fear of missing out, trust, or personal familiarity into a conversion tactic.

15. Cooperation Duties

15.1 You must cooperate with POOOL in relation to:

- onboarding,
- training,
- review requests,
- complaint handling,
- content review,
- payout review,
- investigations,
- remediation steps,
- and enforcement processes.

15.2 You must promptly provide information reasonably requested by POOOL in relation to Program compliance, to the extent permitted by applicable law. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]

15.3 Failure to cooperate may itself be treated as a conduct issue.

16. Reporting and Escalation Duties

16.1 You must promptly report to POOOL if:

- you are unsure whether a communication is allowed,
- you believe a disclosure is missing,
- you mistakenly used the wrong material,
- a user asks you for advice or payment handling,
- you become aware of misuse of your link or code,
- you suspect fraud, impersonation, or abuse,
- you receive a complaint tied to your affiliate activity,
- or you become aware of a data or privacy issue related to Program activity.

16.2 Silence is not an acceptable substitute for escalation where you know or reasonably suspect there is a compliance issue.

17. Data and Confidentiality Conduct

17.1 You must not misuse affiliate, customer, referral, payout, or internal POOOL information.

17.2 You must not:

- collect unnecessary user data,

- store customer data outside approved workflows,
- share screenshots or internal records informally,
- disclose non-public Program information without permission,
- export or reuse Program-related data for unrelated purposes,
- or use non-public information to create private sales leverage. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]

17.3 You must promptly report any actual or suspected unauthorized access, disclosure, misuse, or loss of Program-related data. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]

18. Approval, Monitoring, and Review

18.1 Participation in the Program is subject to:

- onboarding approval,
- content and conduct controls,
- monitoring,
- review,
- payout gating,
- and enforcement.

18.2 Your acceptance of this Code does not guarantee:

- approval,
- continued participation,
- commission payment,
- or immunity from review.

18.3 POOOL may monitor affiliate conduct, content usage, complaint signals, referral-path misuse, and related risk indicators as part of Program governance, subject to applicable law. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]

19. Disciplinary Consequences

19.1 Violations of this Code may result in one or more consequences depending on severity, frequency, intent, user impact, and Program-integrity impact.

19.2 Possible consequences include:

- warning,
- required content correction,
- content takedown,

- mandatory retraining,
- link or code deactivation,
- referral qualification freeze,
- payout freeze,
- Tier-credit exclusion,
- temporary suspension,
- denial of affected commission,
- clawback or offset,
- permanent removal from the Program,
- and internal or legal escalation where required. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]

19.3 POOOL may apply interim controls while facts are under review.

20. Practical Enforcement Ladder

POOOL may apply the following escalation logic:

Level 1 — Warning / Correction

Used for lower-level or first-time issues where correction is possible.

Level 2 — Restricted Activity / Freeze

Used where active risk exists, facts are under review, or payout / referral validity is uncertain.

Level 3 — Suspension

Used where serious conduct concerns exist, repeat conduct continues, or immediate separation is reasonably necessary.

Level 4 — Financial Correction

Used where commissions must be denied, reversed, offset, or clawed back.

Level 5 — Permanent Removal

Used where critical misconduct, fraud, payment handling, side deals, repeated serious violations, intentional abuse, or material circumvention exists.

21. No Loophole Rule

21.1 You must not attempt to avoid this Code by:

- changing labels,
- moving into private channels,
- delaying the link until later,
- routing through profile or story placement,
- using another person or account,
- splitting prohibited conduct across multiple messages,
- or separating persuasion from the final referral step.

21.2 POOOL will assess conduct by substance, not formatting tricks, channel choice, or staged sequencing.

22. Relationship to Other Program Documents

22.1 This Code is a conduct and behavior document.

22.2 It does not by itself determine:

- final referral qualification,
- commission entitlement,
- payout timing,
- tax classification,
- or full privacy-law treatment.

22.3 Those matters remain governed by the applicable Program Documents, including the Terms, Qualified Referral & Payout Policy, Tax SOP, and Affiliate Privacy Notice or related privacy controls.

22.4 Nothing in summary pages, onboarding copy, dashboard copy, or similar implementation material changes this Code unless POOOL expressly states otherwise in writing.

23. Final Standard

If you are ever unsure, apply this test:

Am I only introducing POOOL and directing the user to official information, or am I helping the user decide, trust, commit, or transact?

If the second is true, stop and redirect.

D. Final legal-review flags only

1. Final cross-reference language to the Terms and other Program Documents.
2. Whether the Code should include its own short definitions section or rely fully on the Terms definitions.
3. Final scope of cooperation duties, evidence requests, and response deadlines.
4. Final scope of monitoring language, especially for privacy-sensitive review of channels, content, and evidence. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]
5. Final wording for affiliate-side confidentiality and data-handling obligations. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]
6. Whether specific social-media disclosure rules should stay here or sit mainly in the Marketing Materials Policy.
7. Whether any user-protection wording should be elevated further in the Code.
8. Final wording for account / referral-link sharing, delegation, or proxy-use restrictions.
9. Final disciplinary language and whether notice, cure, or appeal rights should be included in some cases. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]
10. Final alignment with the monitoring / suspension / clawback framework and the eventual complaint-handling SOP.

E. Readiness note for internal review, operational use, and legal review

This revised Code is ready for:

- internal review,
- operational use as the main behavioral standard,
- training and moderation design,
- onboarding acceptance planning,
- and focused legal review.

OL Affiliate Code of Conduct

Phase 1 – Controlled Referral Program

Effective Date: [DATE]

Applies To: All applicants, approved affiliates, pilot affiliates, reactivated affiliates, and any other persons granted access to the POOOL Affiliate Program.

1. Purpose

This Affiliate Code of Conduct (“Code”) defines the conduct and communication standards that apply to participation in the POOOL Affiliate Program (the “Program”).

Its purpose is to ensure that Affiliates:

- understand the limits of their role,
- communicate in a compliant and trustworthy way,
- use only approved methods and materials,
- protect users and POOOL from avoidable harm,
- and remain within the Phase 1 referral-only model at all times.

This Code is an operational conduct document. It applies together with the POOOL Affiliate Terms & Conditions, the Approved Marketing Materials Policy, the Qualified Referral & Payout Policy, the Affiliate Privacy Notice, onboarding requirements, training requirements, and related Program Documents.

Where another Program Document is unclear, this Code must be interpreted consistently with the master Phase 1 rule:

Affiliates may introduce and refer, but they may not advise, recommend, sell, negotiate, close, or handle payments.

2. Scope and Application

2.1 This Code applies from the time a person:

- applies to join the Program,
- participates in onboarding,
- receives pre-approval access,
- is approved as an Affiliate,
- is reactivated,
- or otherwise receives access to Program materials, tools, or workflows.

2.2 This Code applies to conduct in:

- public posts,
- stories,
- reels,
- videos,
- blogs,
- comments,
- direct or private messages,

- calls,
- voice notes,
- profile bios,
- landing pages,
- referral routing,
- and any other channel used in connection with Program activity.

2.3 This Code applies by substance, not by label. A person cannot avoid this Code by describing conduct as “education,” “help,” “community support,” “personal opinion,” or similar wording if the conduct is in substance affiliate-regulated communication.

3. Core Conduct Rule

3.1 As a POOOL Affiliate, your role is limited to:

- introducing POOOL in general terms,
- sharing approved materials,
- sharing your personal approved referral link or code,
- and directing users to official POOOL pages, disclosures, documents, fees, and risk information.

3.2 You must not:

- provide personal investment advice,
- recommend specific assets, listings, or offerings,
- promise or imply returns, certainty, safety, suitability, or performance,
- privately cold-solicit users,
- negotiate,
- close,
- handle payments,
- route funds,
- or otherwise act as an adviser, broker, seller, closer, or transaction intermediary.

3.3 If your conduct goes beyond introduction and referral, it is outside the Phase 1 model.

4. Behavioral Standards

Every Affiliate must act in a way that is:

- truthful,

- accurate,
- respectful,
- non-misleading,
- non-coercive,
- transparent,
- consistent with approved materials and official disclosures,
- and consistent with the reputation and operating standards of POOOL.

Affiliates must never prioritize conversion, commission, speed, or private persuasion over compliance, clarity, and user protection.

5. What Good Affiliate Conduct Looks Like

Good affiliate conduct includes:

- explaining POOOL in general, factual terms,
- sharing only approved content where approval is required,
- directing users to official POOOL information,
- clearly separating your role from advisory or sales roles,
- using your referral path transparently,
- redirecting users when they ask for advice, recommendation, suitability, or expected returns,
- using respectful and non-pushy communication,
- and cooperating promptly with onboarding, training, review, and remediation processes.

6. Communication Standards

6.1 General rule

All affiliate communication must stay within the general information + compliant referral activity zone.

Your communication must not:

- sound like investment advice,
- sound like a personal recommendation,
- create urgency to invest,
- create false comfort or false certainty,
- or create the impression that you are qualified or authorized to guide the user's personal investment decision.

6.2 Official-information rule

When speaking about POOOL, you must direct users to official POOOL materials for:

- product information,
- asset or offering information,
- fee information,
- risk information,
- disclosures,
- and other decision-relevant content.

Official POOOL materials are the controlling source of information. Your role is not to replace them, summarize them in a misleading way, or compete with them.

6.3 Redirect rule

If a user asks:

- what they should invest in,
- which asset is best,
- whether something is safe,
- whether something suits their goals,
- how much they should invest,
- what return they should expect,
- whether one asset is better than another,
- or any other question requiring advice, recommendation, suitability guidance, or decision support,

you must not answer in a personal or directional way.

You must redirect the user to:

- official POOOL materials,
- official fee and risk pages,
- official disclosures,
- and/or official POOOL-controlled support channels.

6.4 No replacement rule

You must not present your own explanation, reassurance, summary, or interpretation as a substitute for official POOOL disclosures, decision materials, or support processes.

7. Private Conversations vs. Affiliate Communication

7.1 Normal, non-systematic private conversations about personal experience are not automatically treated as regulated affiliate communication.

7.2 However, a communication becomes affiliate-regulated communication when you:

- share your referral link or code,
- direct a person to your profile, bio, story, page, or other referral path,
- use a call to action,
- engage in commission-related redirection,
- use the interaction as part of systematic promotional behavior,
- or begin advisory, recommendation, persuasion, or sales conduct.

7.3 The mere existence of a referral link on your profile does not automatically reclassify every unrelated conversation. However, where the conversation and the referral path are functionally connected as part of one referral journey, the communication may be treated as affiliate-regulated communication.

7.4 POOOL will interpret this boundary by substance rather than form.

8. Use of Approved Materials

8.1 You may use only materials, examples, texts, visuals, assets, and scripts approved by POOOL where approval is required.

8.2 You must not:

- invent your own claims,
- create custom pitch decks,
- alter official materials in a misleading or incomplete way,
- remove required disclosures,
- create unofficial FAQs,
- create return sheets or “performance” summaries,
- or present unofficial documents as if they were approved.

8.3 If a material is withdrawn, replaced, retired, or updated, you must stop using the old version promptly.

8.4 You must comply promptly with any POOOL instruction to:

- correct content,

- remove content,
- stop using a material,
- stop using a channel,
- or cease a communication practice.

9. Professional Conduct Standards

9.1 As a POOOL Affiliate, you must:

- behave professionally in public and private communication,
- avoid pressure, harassment, or emotional manipulation,
- avoid exaggerated or sensational marketing,
- respond honestly when you do not know something,
- not speak beyond your role,
- keep a clear boundary between sharing and advising,
- and preserve trust in the POOOL brand.

9.2 You must not use “soft” tactics to get around the rules, such as:

- pretending to be “just helpful” while steering a decision,
- pretending to be “just sharing” while giving a recommendation,
- pretending to be “just educating” while privately pushing conversion,
- or staging persuasion first and the referral CTA later.

10. Prohibited Communication Styles and Examples

10.1 Guarantees and certainty claims

You must not say or imply:

- “This is guaranteed.”
- “You will definitely make money.”
- “This is safe.”
- “This cannot go wrong.”
- “This is basically certain.”
- “You will get your money back.”
- “This is low risk for you.”
- “This one will perform.”
- “This is the best opportunity.”

10.2 Personal investment advice

You must not say or imply:

- “You should invest.”
- “This is right for you.”
- “You should start with this one.”
- “This fits your goals.”
- “I think your best move is this asset.”
- “If I were you, I would buy this.”

10.3 Specific asset recommendations

You must not say or imply:

- “Buy this villa.”
- “Choose this asset.”
- “This project is better than the other one.”
- “Start with this property first.”
- “This is the safest listing.”
- “I recommend this offering.”

10.4 Sales pressure and closing language

You must not say or imply:

- “You should act now.”
- “Don’t miss this.”
- “I can get you in.”
- “Let’s close this today.”
- “If you wait, you will lose the chance.”
- “Send me your details and I’ll help you get it done.”

10.5 Private cold outreach

You must not:

- cold-DM users,
- send unsolicited WhatsApp messages,
- send unsolicited Telegram messages,
- cold-call potential users,
- or use one-to-one unsolicited outreach to push POOOL or your referral path.

10.6 Side deals and unofficial promises

You must not say or imply:

- “I can get you special terms.”
- “I can arrange something extra for you.”
- “Use my link and I’ll give you a private bonus.”
- “I know someone who can push it through faster.”
- “I can get you a different deal off-platform.”

10.7 Payment handling

You must not say or imply:

- “Send me the money and I’ll arrange it.”
- “Transfer it to me first.”
- “I will handle the payment side.”
- “I can route the payment for you.”
- “I’ll take care of the transaction.”

10.8 Misrepresentation of role

You must not say or imply:

- “I’m your adviser.”
- “I’m your broker on this.”
- “I work as the closer.”
- “I can approve your investment.”
- “I represent POOOL in this decision.”
- “I can negotiate on POOOL’s behalf.”

11. Prohibited Conduct

In addition to the examples above, you must not, directly or indirectly:

11.1 provide personal investment advice;

11.2 recommend specific assets, listings, or offerings;

11.3 promise or imply returns, certainty, performance, safety, or suitability;

11.4 engage in persuasion, objection handling, urgency tactics, or closing;

11.5 use private cold outreach;

- 11.6 negotiate terms or offer side deals;
- 11.7 receive, collect, route, hold, or control user funds or payments;
- 11.8 use unapproved, outdated, misleading, or manipulated materials;
- 11.9 misrepresent your role, authority, or relationship with POOOL;
- 11.10 recruit Affiliates for commission or build downlines or team-based income structures;
- 11.11 engage in self-referral, related-party self-referral, referral-ring behavior, attribution manipulation, fake-account activity, or fraud;
- 11.12 share, lend, delegate, sell, sublicense, or route your affiliate identity, account access, referral link, or referral code through another person except where expressly approved in writing by POOOL;
- 11.13 avoid the rules by using indirect wording, voice notes, disappearing messages, assistants, proxies, alternate accounts, or staged communication tactics.

12. Social Media and Public Content Conduct

12.1 When posting publicly, you must:

- remain factual and general,
- avoid promises, certainty language, or “best asset” messaging,
- include required disclosures where applicable,
- use only approved materials and wording where required,
- and ensure your referral path is used transparently.

12.2 Public content must never function as disguised advice or disguised sales conduct.

12.3 Public content must not be structured to privately convert the user later through conduct that would not be allowed if said publicly.

13. Profile, Bio, Story, and Link Conduct

13.1 You may place your approved referral link in approved placements such as:

- profile bios,
- approved landing pages,
- approved story/link placements,

- and approved public content environments.

13.2 You must not use profile, story, or bio routing as a loophole to avoid classification of affiliate communication.

13.3 If you tell someone:

- “check my bio,”
- “the link is in my story,”
- “look at my profile for the code,”
- or similar referral-routing statements,

that is affiliate communication and this Code applies in full.

14. User Respect and Fair Treatment

14.1 You must treat users respectfully and fairly.

14.2 You must not:

- pressure vulnerable users,
- exploit confusion,
- use deceptive urgency,
- use harassment or repetitive pressure,
- shame a user for not investing,
- or create emotional manipulation around investment decisions.

14.3 You must not turn confusion, inexperience, fear of missing out, trust, or personal familiarity into a conversion tactic.

15. Cooperation Duties

15.1 You must cooperate with POOOL in relation to:

- onboarding,
- training,
- review requests,
- complaint handling,
- content review,
- payout review,
- investigations,
- remediation steps,

- and enforcement processes.

15.2 You must promptly provide information reasonably requested by POOOL in relation to Program compliance, to the extent permitted by applicable law. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]

15.3 Failure to cooperate may itself be treated as a conduct issue.

16. Reporting and Escalation Duties

16.1 You must promptly report to POOOL if:

- you are unsure whether a communication is allowed,
- you believe a disclosure is missing,
- you mistakenly used the wrong material,
- a user asks you for advice or payment handling,
- you become aware of misuse of your link or code,
- you suspect fraud, impersonation, or abuse,
- you receive a complaint tied to your affiliate activity,
- or you become aware of a data or privacy issue related to Program activity.

16.2 Silence is not an acceptable substitute for escalation where you know or reasonably suspect there is a compliance issue.

17. Data and Confidentiality Conduct

17.1 You must not misuse affiliate, customer, referral, payout, or internal POOOL information.

17.2 You must not:

- collect unnecessary user data,
- store customer data outside approved workflows,
- share screenshots or internal records informally,
- disclose non-public Program information without permission,
- export or reuse Program-related data for unrelated purposes,
- or use non-public information to create private sales leverage. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]

17.3 You must promptly report any actual or suspected unauthorized access, disclosure, misuse, or loss of Program-related data. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]

18. Approval, Monitoring, and Review

18.1 Participation in the Program is subject to:

- onboarding approval,
- content and conduct controls,
- monitoring,
- review,
- payout gating,
- and enforcement.

18.2 Your acceptance of this Code does not guarantee:

- approval,
- continued participation,
- commission payment,
- or immunity from review.

18.3 POOOL may monitor affiliate conduct, content usage, complaint signals, referral-path misuse, and related risk indicators as part of Program governance, subject to applicable law. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]

19. Disciplinary Consequences

19.1 Violations of this Code may result in one or more consequences depending on severity, frequency, intent, user impact, and Program-integrity impact.

19.2 Possible consequences include:

- warning,
- required content correction,
- content takedown,
- mandatory retraining,
- link or code deactivation,
- referral qualification freeze,
- payout freeze,
- Tier-credit exclusion,
- temporary suspension,
- denial of affected commission,
- clawback or offset,
- permanent removal from the Program,

- and internal or legal escalation where required. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]

19.3 POOOL may apply interim controls while facts are under review.

20. Practical Enforcement Ladder

POOOL may apply the following escalation logic:

Level 1 — Warning / Correction

Used for lower-level or first-time issues where correction is possible.

Level 2 — Restricted Activity / Freeze

Used where active risk exists, facts are under review, or payout / referral validity is uncertain.

Level 3 — Suspension

Used where serious conduct concerns exist, repeat conduct continues, or immediate separation is reasonably necessary.

Level 4 — Financial Correction

Used where commissions must be denied, reversed, offset, or clawed back.

Level 5 — Permanent Removal

Used where critical misconduct, fraud, payment handling, side deals, repeated serious violations, intentional abuse, or material circumvention exists.

21. No Loophole Rule

21.1 You must not attempt to avoid this Code by:

- changing labels,
- moving into private channels,
- delaying the link until later,
- routing through profile or story placement,
- using another person or account,
- splitting prohibited conduct across multiple messages,
- or separating persuasion from the final referral step.

21.2 POOOL will assess conduct by substance, not formatting tricks, channel choice, or staged sequencing.

22. Relationship to Other Program Documents

22.1 This Code is a conduct and behavior document.

22.2 It does not by itself determine:

- final referral qualification,
- commission entitlement,
- payout timing,
- tax classification,
- or full privacy-law treatment.

22.3 Those matters remain governed by the applicable Program Documents, including the Terms, Qualified Referral & Payout Policy, Tax SOP, and Affiliate Privacy Notice or related privacy controls.

22.4 Nothing in summary pages, onboarding copy, dashboard copy, or similar implementation material changes this Code unless POOOL expressly states otherwise in writing.

23. Final Standard

If you are ever unsure, apply this test:

Am I only introducing POOOL and directing the user to official information, or am I helping the user decide, trust, commit, or transact?

If the second is true, stop and redirect.

D. Final legal-review flags only

1. Final cross-reference language to the Terms and other Program Documents.
2. Whether the Code should include its own short definitions section or rely fully on the Terms definitions.
3. Final scope of cooperation duties, evidence requests, and response deadlines.
4. Final scope of monitoring language, especially for privacy-sensitive review of channels, content, and evidence. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]
5. Final wording for affiliate-side confidentiality and data-handling obligations. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]

6. Whether specific social-media disclosure rules should stay here or sit mainly in the Marketing Materials Policy.
7. Whether any user-protection wording should be elevated further in the Code.
8. Final wording for account / referral-link sharing, delegation, or proxy-use restrictions.
9. Final disciplinary language and whether notice, cure, or appeal rights should be included in some cases. [LEGAL REVIEW REQUIRED]
10. Final alignment with the monitoring / suspension / clawback framework and the eventual complaint-handling SOP.

E. Readiness note for internal review, operational use, and legal review

This revised Code is ready for:

- internal review,
- operational use as the main behavioral standard,
- training and moderation design,
- onboarding acceptance planning,
- and focused legal review.
